On behalf of the Board, management and staff of Soccer Australia, as well as the member clubs of the National Soccer League, we welcome you to the 2001/2002 NSL season.

The forthcoming season promises all our supporters an entertaining and competitive league, complemented with some major recruiting from teams who have championship ambitions and a renewed focus by many clubs back towards their local communities.

Last season, we had Wollongong win back-to-back Championships as well as being crowned Oceania Club Champions, a new Premier in South Melbourne who also contested their third Grand Final in four seasons, while Perth Glory's Damian Mori became the first player to score 150 NSL goals and Parramatta Power's Alex Tobin became the all-time NSL appearance holder with 462 matches played.

Our League continues to grow in strength off the pitch as well, with the competition drawing the support of more than one million spectators during the regular season for a second year running, an average crowd figure of 5,108 per game which was the third largest average on NSL record, and a record number of goals scored per match in any NSL season, 3.33 goals per game.

With improved television coverage through our broadcasting partner Channel 7 set to reach a far wider audience on free-to-air TV, the National Soccer League and its clubs, now more than ever before, have the chance to become major players in the Australian sporting market.

I would also like to take this opportunity to acknowledge our other corporate partners in helping us develop our premier national competition, Qantas, Telstra, C7 Sport and IEC – we thank you for your continued support and assistance. Finally, to all fans, players, clubs, administrators and media representatives, we look forward to your support and wish you all the best for the forthcoming season.

IAN KNOP
Chairman
Soccer Australia

International Entertainment Corporation congratulates all the Clubs on their successful qualification and selection by the Board of Soccer Australia, for this year's competition in accordance with the re-structure and participation process of the Soccer 21 report.

We are sure the spirit and determination of the Clubs and their commercial partners will, as they have in the past, deliver plenty to see and talk about in this, its TWENTY-SIXTH season of national competition.

For this season, we welcome "on board" as commercial partners of the National Soccer League, two of the very finest Australian "blue-chip" companies, QANTAS and TELSTRA.

QANTAS we welcome back for its second season as our "Official Airline," while TELSTRA embark with the League on their inaugural season as the "Telecommunication Partner". We look forward to travelling this season together and thank both for their valued support and involvement.

We also congratulate Soccer Australia's Broadcast partner Channel Seven, on its commitment to this season's competition with a minimum one-hour show on Sunday mornings. We hope this is just the beginning of their long-term development of the game on commercial television.

Finally, this will be our company's third season of involvement with the League and Clubs, and we look forward to working with everyone in the challenges that we will face together in this critical season.

GROWTH OF THE GAME IS THE PFA'S NO. 1 OBJECTIVE

by Alex Tobin, President of the Australian Professional Footballers' Association

The last few years have been a torrid time for Australian soccer, but the advances in the professionalism and status of Australian players since the formation of the Australian Professional Footballers' Association in 1993 have been tremendous for the game in this country.

The Collective Bargaining Agreements that the PFA has in place with Soccer Australia for both NSL players and the Socceroos have ensured Australian footballers are substantially better protected and rewarded for their performances than in the past.

In conjunction with Soccer Australia and the NSL clubs, the PFA has a vital role to play in developing soccer in Australia to become the career of choice for potential elite athletes. However, the PFA is deeply concerned about the NSL, and the continued trend of young players bypassing the NSL in pursuit of overseas dreams.

The NSL has been, and must continue to be, an integral part of the career path of Australia's top players. The likes of Paul Okon, Frank Farina, Mark Viduka, Stan Lazaridis and Brett Emerton - who are among many Australian stars who had meaningful NSL careers before making an impression on the global stage - are evidence of the benefit to players of establishing a firm foothold in Australia before venturing overseas.

The demands on Australian players in the turbulent world of football have never been greater. A soccer career path is one of constant transition: players leaving home to join football academies and NSL clubs, then perhaps playing overseas and dealing with the pressures of player agents, club and international commitments, with the constant threat of injury adding to the unpredictability of a career within the sport.

The difficulties faced by players at all stages of their playing careers have been recognised by the PFA in establishing our career education program. This program is aimed at maximising a player's time in the game, as well as preparing him for life after football.

The PFA is hopeful that the 2001/02 NSL season will mark the beginning of a strengthening of soccer's position in the Australian sporting marketplace. As with every NSL campaign, there will be some memorable football played off the park, with the input of all stakeholders within the game - supporters, administrators and, of course, the players - everyone can help contribute to the cause. Enjoy the new season.

Alex Tobin has been PFA President since 1998 and a member of the PFA Executive since 1995. He is both the National Soccer League and Australia OEA' internationals games record holder.

SEVEN THE ONE TO WATCH FOR SOCCER

The Seven Network is pleased to be able to extend its coverage of the National Soccer League in the 2001-2002 season. The Network's plans for the upcoming season include the following programming initiatives across its free-to-air, pay television and internet platforms.

Australian Soccer will include extended highlights of at least two National League games, as well as highlights of all other games played in that round. It will also feature stories on key players in the National League and catch-up with Australian stars playing overseas.

In addition to all the news and views from the National League, Australian Soccer will focus on the development of the code in Australia, with regular segments on junior soccer and women's competition.

The Seven Network will also provide Friday Night Coverage throughout the season broadcasting the match of the night from around 11.30pm nationally, with complementary live coverage on C7.

The Seven Network also plans to telecast the Grand Final live in 2002.

In September 2000, the NSL license of the Newcastle Breakers was terminated. Soon after, a license was granted to a new and separate entity from the Newcastle region, Newcastle United. To reflect the fact that most of the squad and coaching staff of the Breakers transferred to United, and that the team was representing the same region, the following Newcastle Breakers NSL statistical supplement is provided.

THE NATIONAL YOUTH LEAGUE

The National Youth League (NYL) commenced in 1984 and is now firmly established as the elite competition for Australia's rising stars. The competition is credited with showcasing the talents of Australia's biggest names.

Players such as current LG Socceroos Paul Okon, Mark Viduka and Brett Emerton to name just a few, began their careers in the National Youth League.

2000/2001 NYL season competition comprised of the following divisions:

- Northern Division
- Southern Division

At the conclusion of the premiership rounds the top four placed teams played-off for their divisional championship. The Northern and Southern Divisional Champions then played-off in the National Grand Final to determine the National Youth League Champions.

The season for the National Youth League Competition concluded at Marconi Stadium on Saturday 2 June 2001, where both the Northern Division Champions the Marconi Stallions Youth and the Southern Division Champions the Melbourne Knights Youth played off in the 2000 / 2001 National Youth League Grand Final. It was Melbourne Knights Youth, who were crowned National Champions after defeating the Marconi Stallions Youth three (3) goals to two (2) in golden goal extra time.

Saturday 2 June 2001 Marconi Stadium

Melbourne Knights 3 defeated Marconi Stallions 2

THE ROAD TO THE NATIONAL GRAND FINAL

The Marconi Stallions finished the Northern Division season in second (2nd) place behind premiers, the Australian Institute of Sport. The teams met in the Preliminary Semi Final where the Stallions faced the star-studded line-up of the AIS, which included Australian U/17's Nathan Coe, Carl Valeri and Anthony Danze. The Stallions defeated the AIS two (2) goals to nil (0) with goals to Harry Karl and Australian U/20's striker Kevo Gulesserian.

The Melbourne Knights finished the Southern Division season in third (3rd) place behind the premiers South Melbourne Institute and second place Eastern Pride. In a hard-fought Elimination Semi Final the Melbourne Knights defeated the Victorian Institute of Sport, who finished fourth, two (2) goals to nil (0). Knight's striker Xhezair Sulemani scored both goals, which saw his team progress to the Preliminary Final. In the Preliminary Final the Knights defeated South Melbourne Institute two (2) goals to one (1) to advance to the Grand Final. Knight's midfielder Jasmin Sehic scored both Knights goals, while Vince Lia scored the lone goal for South Melbourne.

Having overpowered two outstanding teams in the Southern Division Final Series, the Melbourne Knights faced the Eastern Pride in the Southern Division Grand Final. It took another superb goal from Knight's striker Xhezair Sulemani to ensure the Knights a place in the National Grand Final.

NATIONAL SOCCER LEAGUE ABRIDGED LAWS OF THE GAME

Law 1 – The Field of Play

NSL fields must have a minimum width of 64m and a maximum of 75m, the field must also have a minimum length of 100m and a maximum of 110m. In all cases the length of the field must be greater than the width.

Law 2 – The Ball

The official game ball of the NSL will have a circumference of 68-70cm, a weight of 410-450g, and pressure equal to 0.6-1.1 atmosphere at sea level.

Law 3 – The Number of Players

Each team has 11 players, one of whom must be the goalkeeper. In the NSL a maximum of 3 substitutes is allowed, and teams are allowed up to 5 substitutes on the bench (one must be a goalkeeper).

Law 4 – The Players' Equipment

Players must not wear anything that is dangerous to either himself or other player. His uniform consists of a jersey, shorts, socks, shin guards, and boots. The goalkeeper must wear colours that distinguish him from the other players on the field, and match officials.

Law 5 – The Referee

The referee has the authority to enforce the Laws of the Game for the match he is in control of. The referee's decision is final. He acts as a timekeeper and keeps a record of the match. The referee works in conjunction with his assistant referees and the fourth official to ensure that the game is played in accordance with the laws of the game.

Law 6 – The Assistant Referee

The two assistant referees are appointed to assist the referee and indicate when the ball goes out of play, which side is entitled to a corner kick, goal kick or throw-in, offside, and when a substitution is requested. They also are required to alert the referee to misconduct.

Law 7 – The Duration of the Match

The match goes for 2 equal periods of 45 minutes. Allowance is made for time lost through injury, substitution(s), time wasting, setting up walls, goal celebration, cautions, send-offs or any other cause at the referee's discretion. Half time is restricted to a maximum of 15 minutes.

Law 8 – The Start and Restart of Play

A toss of a coin decides which team will kick off. Each team must stay in their own half and the defending players must be at least 9.15m from the ball. Play is restarted with a kick off after a goal has been scored. The second half of the match is started by the team that did not kick-off in the first half.

Law 9 – The Ball In and Out of Play

The ball is out of play when: (a) the whole ball has crossed the goal line/touch line, (b) play has been stopped by the referee. The ball is in play at all other times.

Law 10 – The Method of Scoring

A goal is scored when the whole of the ball crosses the goal line, between the posts and under the cross bar, provided that no infringement has occurred prior to the goal being scored.

Law 11 – Offside

A player is in an offside position if he is nearer to his opponent's goal line than both the ball and the second last opponent. He is not in an offside position if: (a) he is in his own half, (b) he is level with the second last opponent, (c) he is level with the last two opponents. A player in an offside position is only penalised if the ball touches or is played by one of his team, he is, involved in play by: (a) interfering with play, (b) interfering with an opponent, (c) gaining an advantage by being in that position. There is no offside offence if a player receives that ball directly from a goal kick, throw-in, or a corner kick. The critical issue is whether or not the player in the offside position gains a significant advantage from being in that position.

Law 12 – Fouls and Misconduct

Direct Free Kick: Awarded if a player commits any of six offences in a manner that is deemed to be careless, reckless or using excessive force: (1) kicks or attempts to kick an opponent, (2) trips or attempts to trip an opponent, (3) jumps at an opponent, (4) charges an opponent, (5) strikes or attempts to strike an opponent, (6) pushes an opponent. Most cautions are administered for unsporting behaviour.

Law 13 – Free Kicks

There are two types of free kicks direct and indirect. Direct free kicks can be kicked directly into goal; indirect free kicks can only result in a goal if the ball touches another player before it enters the goal. For all free kicks the opposing teams must be at least 9.15 metres from the ball.

Law 14 – The Penalty Kick

A penalty kick is awarded against a team that commits a direct free kick offence inside their own penalty area. All players must be at least 9.15m outside the penalty area behind the penalty mark except the penalty taker and the goalkeeper. The goalkeeper may move along his goal line but not forward.

Law 15 – The Throw-In

The thrower must face the field of play, have part of his foot either on or outside the touchline, use both hands and throw the ball over his head. A goal cannot be directly scored from a throw in.

Law 16 – The Goal Kick

Awarded when the whole of the ball, having last been touched by the attacking team, passes over the goal line and not within the goalmouth. The ball is kicked from any point of the goal area by a member of the defending team.

Law 17 – The Corner Kick

When the ball has crossed the goal line, having last touched the defending team, it is placed on the corner arc and is kicked by a player in the attacking team.
